Consumer Information Statement (CIS) for Consumers Seeking to Purchase or Sell Residential Property Designed for Use by 1-4 Families

This information is from the Delaware Real Estate Commission and is not a contract.

Delaware law, title 24 ch.29 requires real estate salespersons, associate brokers, and brokers to provide this CIS to you at the earlier of your first scheduled appointment, the first showing of a property, or making an offer. You are encouraged to read this CIS before you list your home for sale or go to view homes to buy. This is first given to you to explain Agency law in Delaware. It must be signed prior to signing an Agreement of Sale, a Listing Agreement, or any other brokerage agreement such as an Exclusive Buyer Agency Agreement.

Presumed Agency: You are a customer when you first contact a broker or salesperson who immediately owes you a duty of confidentiality as explained below. You automatically become a client and the other Statutory Duties begin upon the earlier of (i) the first scheduled appointment, (ii) the first showing of a property, (iii) making an offering, or (iv) the agent working for you, unless a CIS is signed indicating there is no agency relationship which means there are no duties owed to you other than confidentiality. Under Delaware Law, it is presumed that you consent to dual agency unless you fill out this form saying you do not want dual agency. Dual agency is explained below.

Brokers and Salespersons as Statutory Agents: Under Delaware law, a real estate broker, associate broker, or salesperson is a statutory agent of yours and may be a dual agent representing both parties unless you elect, in a written agreement, to enter into a common law agency relationship or to decline dual agency. A statutory agent is an independent contractor. He or she is NOT your fiduciary, but is an agent with duties specified by Delaware statutory law. Unless you say otherwise, the broker, associate broker, or salesperson also may represent both the buyer and seller with duties owed to both which is called dual agency as explained below.

Compensation:

Broker and agent compensation is not set by law and is fully negotiable. There is not a “standard commission.” You should discuss compensation and the scope of services to be provided for such compensation with your real estate agent early in the process. Brokers can set their own compensation and fees based on what services are offered and their business model in the competitive marketplace. To protect your interests, it is recommended that you enter into a written agency agreement outlining your real estate agent’s duties, as well as your rights and responsibilities.

Important Terms:

Client: The member of the public who is the principal in the statutory agency relationship.

Customer: A member of the public who is working with a licensee before the presumed agency relationship begins or who declines agency representation which means there are no duties other than confidentiality.

Delaware Real Estate Commission: The regulatory body which issues licenses to brokers and salespersons under Delaware law, and which hears complaints filed by the public with respect to Licensees. License law and rules and regulations are available on the Real Estate Commission’s website at www.dpr.delaware.gov.

Designated Agent: An independent contractor working with you under statutory agency. He or she may be licensed as a broker, associate broker, or a salesperson.

Dual Agency: Whenever a dual agency relationship exists, the designated salesperson or associate broker, that agent’s broker, and the brokerage organization may be dual agents. Examples are listed below:

1. If the same salesperson or associate broker represents both the buyer and seller in a transaction, then that salesperson or associate broker, his or her broker, and brokerage organization are all dual agents.
2. If the buyer and seller are represented by two different salespeople or associate brokers working for the same broker, then the broker and the brokerage organization are both dual agents, but the salespersons or associate broker are not.
3. If the buyer and seller are represented by two different salespeople or associate brokers working for different brokers under the same brokerage organization, then only the brokerage organization is a dual agent.

Statutory Agent: An agent with duties under Delaware statutory law, not common law fiduciary duties. The agent is a statutory agent for you and may be a dual agent as explained above.

Confidentiality: Brokers and salespersons have a duty of confidentiality to all parties from the moment of their first contact. A broker or salesperson MAY NOT disclose the following information UNLESS the affected party has provided his or her informed consent:

1. The buyer is willing to pay more for the property than what has been offered.
2. The seller is willing to accept less than the asking price.
3. The seller or buyer will agree to terms other than those offered.
4. Any personal motivations for any party to a transaction, IF that party has requested that the information be kept confidential.

6. Facts or suspicions regarding circumstances which may psychologically impact or stigmatize property under Section 2927 of Title 24 of Delaware law unless by law it must be disclosed.
7. Facts or suspicions that someone is a registered sex offender under Delaware law. Information regarding registered sex offenders is available from the Delaware State Police at www.state.de.us/dsp/sexoff/index.htm.

Important Information:

1. The client and his or her broker and designated agent are not responsible for the wrongful actions of the other unless they had actual knowledge of the wrongful act, error, omission or misrepresentation; however, the person who was wrong is still responsible.
2. Notice given to a designated agent is considered notice to that designated agent's client. Notice given to anyone else in the licensee's office is not considered notice to that client.
